SIERRA MADRE VOTE REGULAR

LOCAL VOTERS PICK WINNERS

Talk of Ticket Bolting Fails to Show Effect When the Final Returns Are Counted

Sierra Madre voted pretty uniformly with the rest of California at Tuesday's election, all the winning candidates receiving a majority of the local vote. For governor the vote stood 105 for Johnson and 52 for Bell. For lieutenant governor Wallace ran ahead of Johnson by seven votes. The republican candidates ran pretty evenly between 110 and 120, there being but a few exceptions. Fredericks dropped to 96, but Woolwine fell far short of that.

The showing of Wallace is particularly gratifying and caused considerable surprise in running ahead of Johnson. The fact that the fight which was waged against him all over the state by the old line element was brought to Sierra Madre did not seem to have any effect on his vote.

All of the constitutional amendments received a majority of the local vote. The bill for the state road bond issue and the so-called "India Basin Act" were favored by a minority.

Local sentiment seems to be one of gratification that California withstood the sweep of democratic victory. The result is largely attributed to so-called progressive control and the offering of first rate progressive candidates, especially for congressman and for governor. While Johnson's vote fell below Taft's vote of two years ago it shows a gain of considerably more than 20,000 over that of Gillett four years ago. On the other hand Bell received only about 11,000 more than he received when he ran against Gillett.

The venerable S. S. Cassad cast his usual straight republican vote. Talk of ticket bolting did not sound good to him, though he was originally a Stanton man. He said he supposed it would be his last vote, but he wanted it to be in keeping with his record for regularity.

Mrs. L. C. Torrance entertains a few friends this afternoon with an informal tea and a talk by Miss Marie Elliott of Pasadena. Miss Elliott gives one of her symphony talks, explaining the program to be given at the concert of the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra next week, making the afternoon one of instruction as well as of delightful entertainment to the guests.

MEETING OF CITY TRUSTEES

Last night's meeting furnished the nearest approach to real excitement seen at a meeting of the city trustees for many, many moons. It verged on the character of a family scrap in which about every member of the official family was involved to some extent and some almost said unkind things about each other. It all arose over the method of paying demands on the city treasurer. Up to a few weeks ago city warrants have been cashed at the bank the same as checks. For some reason Treasurer Lehmer has stopped the practice and now requires that all warrants be presented to him and he issues a check on the local bank for the amount specified in the warrant. Two or three incidents caused the trustees to remark that he was taking to himself the duties of an auditor as well as of a treasurer which they claim is not in the province of his office. On the other hand the treasurer charged carelessness at times in the making out of warrants. Before the discussion was over it had wandered far afield, involving such historic incidents as the impounding and killing of the treasurer's dog by the present city marshal who is also tax collector and therefore in a position where a good deal of friction can be generated between them in the conduct of the city business. This, it was claimed, by some of the trustees, was at the root of the whole business. It was finally decided by the trustees that if the treasurer would not allow warrants to be cashed at the bank he should be required to keep regular office hours the same as those of the bank. An ordinance to that effect was consequently put on its first reading.

It was voted to offer a reward of $25 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person breaking or removing lamps from the street lights or from the fire house at the rear of the city hall. The reason for the action was the reported breaking of the last named lamp three times within as many weeks.

Messrs. C. A. Yerxa, M. H. Bridle, J. D. Mackerras and A. S. Mead presented a report from the Board of Trade committee on house numbering in connection with the naming of various streets about town. In a few cases there are duplicate names in different parts of town. In other cases short streets almost in line with each other have different names. The report was designed to remove confusion by eliminating the duplicates and by making names uniform where possible.

A report was received from Attorney L. R. Hewitt, who has been engaged with City Attorney Madden in the water condemnation suit. He said Judge Monroe had granted the city's petition to strike out portions of the Baldwin answer to the suit and the case is now ready for trial at any time.

The matter of placing street signs at all corners in town was taken up. A few corners have never had signs placed and the proposed changes in street names will require a good many substitutions for those now in use. The street superintendent was directed to prepare a list of all intersections where signs are at present needed.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING

At the regular meeting of the Board of Trade next Monday the matter of co-operation with the Woman's Club in their flower show will be up for consideration. The club has secured promise of sufficient backing to assure success with reasonable effort and the event can be made to prove one of the best advertising ventures ever carried on here. A good attendance at the Board meeting is greatly desired.

GUILD TO HOLD ANNUAL BAZAAR

WILL BE A SOCIETY EVENT

Ladies of Ascension Parish Preparing for Rushing Business at Next Week's Affair

The Woman's Guild of Ascension Parish announce the opening of their annual bazaar on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, November 16 and 17, at the Woman's club house. Promptly at two o'clock the doors will open and everybody is cordially invited to attend the bazaar, enjoy a social afternoon and make their selection of Christmas gifts from the many attractive articles offered for sale.

The fancy work table, decorated in yellow, will be presided over by Miss Daisy Hawks, assisted by Mrs. Conard, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Johnson, Miss Jennie Lambert and Miss Simmons of Philadelphia. This table promises a delightful variety of useful and beautiful articles in the line of embroidered centerpieces, shawls, pin cushions, table-runners, kimonoes, neckwear and any number of pretty bags made from silk, satin and linen.

The candy table will be gay with glowing crimson trimmings and will be under the care of Miss Flora Vanier, assisted by the Misses Stella Norris and Edith Steinberger. Here one will want to linger longest and taste all the delicious and toothsome home-made candies, bonbons and confections that will be displayed.

In festive adornment of pink and green, the punch table will welcome the arriving guests, where the cup that cools, filled with nectar brewed from fruits from our local groves, will be served by the ladies in charge, Mrs. Stilson, ably assisted by Mrs. Lawless and Mrs. Goodfellow.

"Oh, for childhood's summer time—When we used to fish with hook and line!"

Bring the children, for there will be a most fascinating fish pond, which Mrs. Frank Hart of Sierra Madre Villa is arranging. There's no telling what kind of a prize fish your small son or daughter may land from this wonderful pool; it may be the whale that swallowed Jonah or the flounder that swam away in the sea with the gold ring stolen from the poor fisherman. Mrs. Hart wishes to see all the children at this fish pond; and aiding her in making the small folks happy will be Mrs. Lettau, Mrs. Franciscus, of The Villa, and Mrs. Carhart of Los Angeles.

Many people on bazaar afternoons will echo the sentiment of Oliver Wendell Holmes—"I always thought cold victuals nice; my choice would be vanilla ice,"—when they enter the dining room, where ice cream will be for sale, with Miss Lydia Webster and Mrs. Steinberger to give heaped-up saucers of it.

The domestic table will be managed by Mrs. Brugman and Miss Brugman; they will decorate in yellow and display all kinds of practical articles in the line of knitted slippers, laundry-bags and aprons of every variety.

Of course the ladies of the Congregational Church Aid Society believe in the sensible doctrine of doing your Christmas shopping early, and it is not too early to begin now. riety for every occasion and to suit every taste and purse.

The new feature this year will be the cooked food table, daintily trimmed in cream chrysanthemums, where Mrs. Dietz and Mrs. Winter will have the most appetizing array of good things—delicate, home-made cakes, salads, Boston baked beans, and jellies. Here also will be sold some of those delicious and famous plum puddings that Mrs. Webster so kindly makes especially for the bazaar. Those who have eaten of these plum puddings in the past know that there is no plum pudding like them; that they are made from a cherished recipe brought years ago from "Merrie England," and happy is the mortal who can claim one of these delectable puddings for his own, to grace the Thanksgiving board. "A word to the wise" should suffice, for the number of Mrs. Webster's puddings will be limited and the demand for them great.

The art table, in rose pink, will be directed by Mrs. Amelia Churchill, Mrs. Collins and Miss Annis Coffey, assisted by Miss Mary Hubbard of Hollywood. Here Christmas shoppers may select cards or calendars to mail to distant friends; there will be beads from the Hawaiian Islands, books, odd bits of china and pretty fans for the girls. Here also will be exhibited and offered for sale an interesting display of wool and silk embroidered pieces, pillow tops, table covers—from the city of Christiana, in Norway; among these, a remarkably wrought canvas piece with the mythical King of Elves portrayed in silks and wools with the accuracy and delicacy of a pastel picture.

Miss Grace Durland has charge of the supper tables. The group of fair young girls who will act as aides, are the Misses Cora Bell, Marjorie Rice, Edna Staples, Jessie Ward, Marguerite Ward, Katherine Schwartz, Stella Morris, Edith Steinberger, and Alma Gilbert.

Supper will be served from 5:30 till 7:30 p. m. and Mrs. J. H. Wright, the capable chairman of this committee, with her staff of able assistants, promises the best kind of hot clamchowder. Supper tickets are 50 cents and are now on sale. The menu includes:

Clam Chowder
Meat Loaf Spanish Spaghetti
Hot Biscuits Coffee
Olives Jelly
Ice Cream
Cake

On Thursday evening there will be dancing after the dramatic program.

At 8 o'clock the entertainment under direction of Mrs. Hawxhurst and Mr. Saxby will begin. The first part, consisting of vaudeville numbers, has been prepared under direction of Mrs. Hawxhurst. The second part, a three-act play, will be under the direction of Mr. Saxby. For the entertainment a charge of 50 cents will be made for reserved seats, and 25 cents for unreserved.

"The Jack Trust"

"The Jack Trust" is a bright little comedy in three short acts, from the pen of Grace Livingston Furniss. It deals with the misadventures of one Lord Jack Townley, a sprig of the tree of English high life, who, while wandering through Georgia, becomes temporarily bankrupt. He tries to make soft speeches do the work of hard cash. Unfortunately all his inamoratas turn up at the same place and there are disastrous results to several feminine hearts, and the final undoing of the perfidious lover.

Miss Edith Blumer will be seen to advantage as a Southern lady driven by stress of circumstances to take in boarders and who is herself badly taken in by the philandering Briton. The part of her maid of all work who always comes out best in all the complications is in the capable hands of Mrs. Collins and her comedy work is excellent. Miss DePencier and Miss Portia Ulrich as two Southern belles are excellently cast in distinctly contrasting roles. Each is given a chance to display her talents. Mrs. Sawday will make her first bow to Sierra Madre audiences as the real wife of the perfidious lover, a part played largely in a character disguise and affording endless opportunity for fun. Mr. Kessen Sawday will be seen as the lovesick Lord who is finally unmasked after an hour of mirth-provoking misunderstandings.

The rehearsals are being vigorously conducted under the experienced hand of Mr. Charles Saxby. The carefully selected little company can be depended upon to extract the last ounce of fun from the comedy. The vaudeville program and cast of the playlet will be as follows:

CLUB ENJOYS BANQUET

The ladies of the I. I. C. gave their first banquet last Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Louis Dietz, inviting their husbands as guests. The address of welcome given by one of the committee in rhyme, elicited much applause at the appropriate hits. A solo and encore from one of the guests was enjoyed. After adjourning to the living room the program was continued, each guest becoming an actor in the art of guessing, an object placed on the left shoulder representing a character to be guessed. This was supplemented by the names thrown into the "pl" on the draperies. The prize, a basket of apples, was won by Mr. Coapman. Music from the phonograph contributed to the evening's entertainment. Contributed.

BY THE WAY

Well, thank heaven, it's over, and nobody is more thankful than the newspaper fraternity, not even the winners.

What was it the eastern press reports were saying about snow last week? Was it a weather report or a political forecast?

The doctors are reported to be contributing liberally to the funds for the Santa Monica automobile race. Very good, but what's the matter with the undertakers?

Los Angeles has good reason to be proud of a population growth of 211.5 per cent in the past ten years. And Sierra Madre can be proportionately proud of a growth of about 500 per cent in the same period.

The decision to hold the Sierra Madre flower show in the spring instead of in the fall is a wise one and will permit of a showing in keeping with the possibilities of our matchless location. Now let everybody get behind it and boost.

It has not yet occurred to any one to suggest a good reason why the men should have monopolized the privilege of voting last Tuesday. That is a monopoly which can be demolished without legal entanglements and should receive the attention of the legislature at once. Isn't it about time to cease applying to it the doctrine of "whatever is is right?"

Mr. Herrin in Los Angeles engineering the investment of millions in interurban properties looks a good deal better than Mr. Herrin in the republican political headquarters engineering the investment of railroad money in politics. It was a good swap the people made at the primaries when they set the old order aside. And the way they clinched the bargain at the polls last Tuesday indicates that they mean to stay with the new order.

She was at the grand opera, talking between the acts to a countryman of the leading artists. Part of the audience had just applauded at the wrong place. "I should think these audiences would seem rude and barbarous to your people when they come to this country," she ventured with the possible intention of making a hit. A little later she told him of the progress in vocal studies of a friend who, she said, is "just doing grand." But she did not tell the name of the teacher who "learned" her.

There is small reason for the surprise expressed in some quarters at the growth of the socialist vote. The truth is, socialism and union labor have suffered from the same cause, namely unfortunate leadership. An occasional outbreak of the rough neck element furnishes the only source of knowledge a great many people have of those movements. With a different coating the pill would not be nearly such bad medicine to multitudes of people who decry socialism without knowing what it is.

A NEW AFRICAN BEAN.

Grows In the Dahomey Region and is Reserved For Chiefs.

M. Augustus Chevalier gives an interesting account of a vegetable of the bean variety which grows in Africa in the Dahomey region. The grains, the size of a very small pea, are formed underground and appear in pods. There is no evidence that this plant is known in Europe. Previously we knew two plants of this kind in Africa, one of these plants being an archide which resembles South American plants, and the other is the voandzon, this latter being the only species of the genus voandzeia. The third plant which we mention here is cultivated for its edible grains. M. Eugene Poisson, who is familiar with the Dahomey region, pointed out its existence in the interior of the country. Such grains are sold in the markets of Abomey under the name of doi. The author observed the doi plants both in flower and in bearing young fruits and examined the dry grains which the natives obtained for him. The doi plant is a new species of voandzeia.

The pods which are found at the root of the plant carry only one or two grains. When there are two grains these are separated by a complete partition, and the pod is narrower here. From this description it may be supposed that the pod is somewhat like the American peanut, in form at least, although it is of smaller size. As we find for the bean, the doi has several varieties, differing by the color of the grains, and these are oftenest white, but can also be black, red or variegated. The area occupied by the plant is very limited, being only a restricted region in the central part of Dahomey. It can be eaten in the same way as the bean and has a very agreeable taste. Owing to the small size of the grain the production is very limited, and it is reserved for the chiefs or other favored persons. For this reason the Dahomey usage forbids the eating of the grains by women.—Scientific American.

SUPERHEATED STEAM.

How It Is Generated and Some of Its Peculiarities.

Superheated steam is generated by the addition of heat to saturated steam which is constantly at the dew point ready to revert into water. The behavior of superheated steam is similar to that of gases. It is a very bad conductor of heat and has the special peculiarity of being able to lose a certain amount of heat without becoming saturated or wet steam. The thermal capacity of steam is only 0.48; therefore very little heat is required to superheat steam, but as the steam loses its heat as quickly as it requires it every passage conveying superheated steam must be well covered with nonconducting material. This, of course, does not apply to pipes located in a smoke box or other place where the surrounding heat is greater than that of the steam.

Although there is some loss when using superheated steam on account of heat radiation, it is very much smaller because the loss of heat from superheated steam has lower calorific value than the latent heat of saturated steam.—Railway and Locomotive Engineering.

Early Use of Machinery.

From an early treatise by Moxon published in 1680 in England it is certain at that time the lathe was developed to a point where it was possible to turn out high class ornamental woodwork, including oval shapes, but anything more than this was beyond its power until the slide rest was invented. Devices for clamping the cutting tools in a fixed position were comparatively early, but the first appearance of the slide rest dates from 1772. Complete drawings and details of an excellent slide rest were given in that year in a French encyclopedia. As early as in 1741 Hindley, a York clockmaker, produced a screw cutting lathe with change gears. This, of course, was a very small machine, and, in fact, the clockmakers of that day seemed to have a monopoly of mechanical ingenuity. Attempts to produce machinery to replace the work of human hands were made early. Thus, for example, in 1732 Wyatt endeavored to make a machine for cutting files, but was not successful.

How to Mix Red Lead Paint.

To mix red lead paint easily and rapidly use a revolving barrel butter churn, says Popular Mechanics. It is well known that red lead is a most stubborn pigment and hard to mix with hand paddles. By using a barrel churn to mix the paint an old painter will be surprised at the increased spreading qualities of the paint so mixed over that mixed with hand paddles

Why Balloons Are Yellow.

Perhaps it is rather late in aeronautics to explain why the gas and hot air balloons alike should be yellow. But a scientist just now explains that only yellow pigment is adapted to the balloon covering for the reason that the textile fabric of the bag must be made air and water tight by a coating of caoutchouc. This substance is disintegrated rapidly under the violet and ultra violet rays of the sun unless the yellow pigment of the bag absorbs them. Chromate of lead, which is used in France, and aniline yellow, used in Germany, are proving unsatisfactory, however, and the balloonists are asking the chemists for a new and better yellow for the purpose.

Progress In Russia.

The new buildings now being constructed in Russian cities are usually from four to five stories high and are divided into single apartments for either business or residence purposes. The old system of heating by means of porcelain stoves has been entirely abandoned, steam or hot water being generally adopted. Most of the houses are provided with electric elevators, and much care is devoted to sanitation.

NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS.

Pursuant to statutes and to Ordinance No. 131 of the Board of Trustees of the City of Sierra Madre, adopted October 20th, 1910, directing this notice, the undersigned will receive and invite, at his office in the City Hall of the City of Sierra Madre, up to 8 o'clock P. M. of the 17th day of November, 1910, sealed proposals or bids for the following street work to be done in said City of Sierra Madre, to-wit:

First: for the grading and oiling of Windsor Lane from the north property line of Central Avenue on the south to the south curb line of Dixie Drive on the north, including all intersections, (except such portions of said street and intersections as are required by law to be kept in order or repair by any person or company having railroad tracks thereon, and also except such portions of said street and intersections as have already been graded to the official line and grade, oiled and accepted by said city) in accordance with the plans and profiles for such work on file in the office of the City Engineer of said city, and city specifications for the grading and oiling of streets on file in the office of the City Clerk of said City, said specifications being numbered 10.

Second: For the construction of a cement curb along both sides of said Windsor Lane from the north property line of Central Avenue on the south to the south curb line of Dixie Drive on the north (except along such portions of said street between said termini where a cement curb has been constructed to the official line and grade and accepted by said city), in accordance with the plans and profiles for such work on file in the office of the City Engineer of said City, and city specifications for the construction of cement curbs on file in the office of the City Clerk of said city, said specifications being numbered 2.

Third: For the construction of a cement gutter one (1) foot in width along both sides of said Windsor Lane from the north property line of Central Avenue on the south to the south curb line of Dixie Drive on the north (except along such portions of said street where a cement gutter one (1) foot in width has been constructed to the official line and grade and accepted by said city), in accordance with the plans and profiles for such work on file in the office of the City Engineer of said City, and city specifications for the construction of cement gutters on file in the office of the City Clerk of said City, said specifications being numbered 8.

Fourth: For the construction of cement swales along and across said Windsor Lane between said termini at such places and of such dimensions as are shown on the plans and profiles for such work on file in the office of the City Engineer of said City, and in accordance with city specifications No. 7 for the construction of cement swales on file in the office of the City Clerk of said City.

Notice is also given that said Ordinance provides as follows:

That the said Board of Trustees of the City of Sierra Madre finds, upon estimates of the City Engineer of said City, that the cost of said proposed work or improvement will be greater than fifty (50) cents per front foot along each line of the said street so proposed to be improved as hereinbefore set forth, including the cost of intersection work assessable upon said frontage, and said Board of Trustees determines that serial bonds shall be issued to represent the cost of said work or improvement; said serial bonds shall extend over a period ending nine years from and after the second day of January next succeeding the date of said bonds and an even annual proportion of the principal sum thereof shall be payable by coupon on the second day of January every year after their date until the whole is paid; and the interest shall be payable semi-annually by coupon on the second days of January and July respectively of each year at the rate of seven (7) per cent. per annum on all sums unpaid until the whole of said principal and interest are paid. Said bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled "An Act to provide a system of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost of street work and improvement within municipalities and also for the payment of such bonds," approved February 27, 1893, and of all acts supplementary thereto or amendatory thereof.

Bidders must file with each proposal or bid a check payable to the order of the President of the Board of Trustees, certified by a responsible bank, for an amount which shall not be less than ten per cent of the aggregate of the proposals, or bond for the said amount, and so payable, signed by the bidder and two sureties, who shall justify before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double the said amount, and over and above all statutory exemptions.

PHILIP C. CARTER,
City Clerk.

AT THE THEATERS

Belasco

"The Gay Lord Quex," Pinero's best play, will be given by Lewis S. Stone and the Belasco Theatre company next week, with Mr. Stone in John Hare's original role of Quex and Eleanor Gordon in the part of Sophie Fulgerney, the manicurist.

No play which ever came from Pinero, admittedly the most brilliant and ablest of all English playwrights, is comparable to "The Gay Lord Quex." The piece in point of dramatic construction is the finest example of expert stage technique of recent years; the story is one that grips the interest of the auditor at the outset and holds it unremittedly until the last moments of the play, while the character drawing is the work of a skillful artist.

The role of Quex will offer splendid opportunities to Mr. Stone, while to Eleanor Gordon the part of Sophie ought to provide the finest possible sort of a chance to once more demonstrate her splendid histrionic abilities.

Burbank

The second week of the big George M. Cohan show, "The Yankee Prince," was to be expected from the first, and it promises to be one of the most heavily attended second weeks in the history of the theater. "The Yankee Prince" is by far the best of the musical comedies that have been the feature of the summer and fall season at the Burbank, and the theater has been crowded at every performance.

No mention of the show can possibly be made without first reference to the great quartet, composed of Percy Bronson, Peter Lang, David Landau and Roscoe Arbuckle. The audiences have nearly broken up the show at every performance trying to keep these four harmonizers and comedians on the stage the rest of the evening. Percy Bronson and Marjorie Rambeau, in the principal parts, add to their popularity in no uncertain terms.

Majestic

Clyde Fitch's last play, "The City," which will be presented by the Messrs. Shubert for the first time in Los Angeles at Hamburger's Majestic Theatre next week, is a vital, absorbing drama showing the effects of metropolitan life on an ambitious and prosperous family who have moved to New York City from a small, upstate town. Furthermore, it is a defense of the city so dearly loved and so admirably interpreted by Mr. Fitch as the crucible in which the essential good and bad qualities of men and women are more thoroughly brought to the surface; the place too fraught with life and activity to tolerate the self-deceit and small hypocrisies which may flourish in lesser localities.

The capable, well-balanced cast comprises Norman Hackett, Geoffrey C. Stein, M. H. Harriman, Josephine Florence Shepherd, Ethel Martin, Suzanne Willa, Dora Booth, Gwendolyn Lowery, Arthur S. Hull, Marie Majaroni and others. The play comes direct from a year's run at the Lyric Theatre, New York City, and this is its first production in this city.
